

I feel that xm radio should be able to give me local weather and traffic information, because the regular am and fm radio are too one sided and full of commercials and not informative at all.